

Ascended Numerology, Magic In The Numbers!!

1:11, 2:22, 3:33, is it by chance you are waking up at these synchronistic times and glancing at the clock when they appear or is someone trying to message you?

Your soul can actually communicate with you through numbers. Everything is energy and frequency. Therefore every number carries a unique energy. When you understand what each of the numbers mean, you can discern what your soul is trying to communicate. This is the art of Ascended Numerology. It is an ancient mystical art that was used by the Essene. Ascended Numerology is quite different from numerology in that it utilizes the numbers 0 and 13 thus incorporating the energy of the infinite, which includes the soul.

Everyone is born with a soul blueprint. This is the foundational energy you carried into this life experience. In Ascended Numerology it is called a Diamond Foundation. Your birth name carries a number (energy), your birth date carries a number (energy) and your birth location carries a number (energy). When these 3 numbers are added together, a fourth number is determined, which is your Master Soul Code. This is the energy you came here to master. Often times, it is your greatest challenge. When it is mastered, it becomes your greatest gift!

These 4 numbers collectively make up your diamond foundation. Everyone's diamond foundation (soul blueprint) is unique and extremely informative about your life experience and how your soul is expressing through it. Your diamond foundation acts as a road map or formula for action towards your greatest soul potential in form. For example, my chart is extremely imbalanced, therefore this was an energetic issue of mine for some time. But, when I moved to a new location and purchased a pet, my energy became more balanced and I felt much better.

Ascended Numerology can be used to determine advantageous marriage dates, ideal living locations or the companies best suited to work for. In fact, it can answer most questions. It is great for explaining why certain events happened in your life, the purpose of deaths or births, as well as the energetic role each family member plays.

Knowing your diamond foundation is not only a fantastic healing tool but is also empowering. You can make more enlightened decisions when light is shed on your experience and when you understand the blueprint of your highest soul potential.

Ascended Numerology is a healing art I've applied and enjoyed with incredible accuracy for many years. If you are interested in finding your personal Diamond Foundation and Master Soul code or would enjoy a more extensive reading, please contact me.
